ICD5 aims to advance the transatlantic community’s strategic thinking on the security challenges facing the Baltic-Nordic region, from armed or cyber attacks to threats against social cohesion and energy security.

The Celtic Sea is the area of the Atlantic Ocean off the south coast of Ireland bounded to the east by Saint George’s Channel; other limits include the Bristol Channel, the English Channel, and the Bay of Biscay, as well as adjacent portions of Wales, Cornwall, and Brittany. The southern and western boundaries are delimited by the continental shelf, which drops away sharply.

Jan 14, 2022 · Going by Russia’s force deployments, both along the Ukraine border and the Baltic Sea, it appears Moscow may be preparing for a two-front war – simultaneously against Ukraine and Sweden. On Friday evening, a Russian nuclear Submarine surfaced off the coast of Norfolk, VA. The sub is equipped with 16 Bulava Missiles, each one equipped with The Baltic offensive, also known as the Baltic strategic offensive, was the campaign between the northern Fronts of the Red Army and the German Army Group North in the Baltic States during the autumn of 1944. The result of the series of battles was the isolation and encirclement of the Army Group North in the Courland Pocket and Soviet re-occupation of the Baltic States.

We provide expertise in all of the following: planning and setting up local and pan-Baltic employment and management structures, conducting negotiations when a client is looking to appoint or dismiss an employee or member of management, preparing agreements for management and employees, advising on non-competition and other restrictive agreements, and representing clients in court or arbitral proceedings.

Feb 08, 2022 · Three major approaches could forge the path to escalation. The first and least ambitious is to deploy in the Sea of Azov behind the current Ukrainian frontline in the Donbas west of Mariupol. The coast here is relatively open and the terrain of southeast Ukraine is among the flattest and most open in the world. The sea services of NATO Allies and partners are committed to maintaining free use of international waters of the Black Sea. We face new challenges in the maritime on a scale not seen for decades. We know from experience that day-to-day competition takes place predominantly in the maritime – on the high seas and in international airspace, and in the...The way that SpaceX, Planetary Resources, or Virgin Galactic approaches space exploration is going to be very different from NASA or the Air Force," explains Lewicki. It would be a marked departure from the approaches Putin has relied on since 2015, and a major step-change in his willingness to use Russian conventional military power overtly. It would cost Russia enormous sums of money and likely many thousands of...
